Session 3: Energy vortices and information about TMI

Summary: Explorer is shown a memory of being in a Chamber of Initiation in a Pyramid during the time of Ramses the Great. It is here that she receives/perceives the information.

She is told that we live within the confines of energy vortices. These vortices, or energy coordinates in the physical and etheric matrix, vivify the physical body and link the pure essence of being with matter. Each human vehicle is “irradiated with comprehension of its totality” and when combined with others, it leads to a critical mass and “blazing comprehension which illumines all of the vortices” and revolutionizes matter.

Kronos says that The Monroe Institute is a vortex in the etheric body of the globe and the thrust of intent calls energies into being. He says it is undergoing a seismic response to global need and a new flowering of energy is building there.

Kronos tells the Explorer that if she wishes to reconnect again, to “seek the pulsing star” that is unmanifested energy. This is a beacon of information.
